

Northwest Health Career Path

GoSwift Transform your dreams of today into tomorrow's reality

What is this project?

NWHCP is a project to make health career programs information available on the internet so that prospective students from the northwest region can browse, learn about those programs and make decisions on a medical career.

How does it work?

It is a full-stack mobile-friendly website from the database, servers to smart visualization of health sciences outreach programs to fill the information gaps between students and program providers. The website is available at nwhealthcareerpath.uw.edu.

Who does it benefit?

- Easier access to programs information
- Closer connection to students
- Support development for health entities
- Social good on patients and society

Fiona Yang

Monica Ma

Kelsey Luo

Jake Jin

Information School
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON