Challenge

People want to answer questions with datam but they don't have the skills to process or harness the data themselves.

Approach

Pilot the format with the data and users from National Disability Rights Network (NDRN)

Solution

An easy to use format with a tailored interface for answering specific questions, without data skills. Any question we've built into the website can be answered in less than three mouse clicks.

Accessible
Every use case completed in less than three clicks

Specific
Easy-to-read visualizations to answer regular and mission critical questions

General
Supports almost any type of data. Made for almost any organization.

Supportive
Users can focus on the impact of the data, not how to make sense of the data.
