

A translation service for limited English proficient users.
Designed to translate in real-time, by real people.

Limited English proficient users struggle to navigate daily language barriers, and digital translation apps don't always solve problems in context of the situation.

With Wave, translation is explained in context—from one human to another.

How Wave works

Limited English proficient user requests a translator

Volunteer translator gets notified

Requestor and translator connect through video call

Personalize in-app language options

Request accessible accommodations

Navigate with guided tutorials

Share feedback on experience

Try it

Use desktop for best experience

Requestor Prototype

Translator Prototype