

Children Will Listen

The Value of Historic Children's Literature

Theresa Ball, Rose Frazier,
Mike Hajostek & Nicole Sonett

With the generous support of Sandra
Kroupa and UW Special Collections

PROCESS
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Plan• Digitize• Metadata• Research• Online Tools

THEMES
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Alphabet Books• Race and Otherness• Fear and Morality• Fairytales

OUTCOMES
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Online Exhibit• LibGuides• Teaching Tools• Public Engagement

Using the Historical Children's Literature Collection at the University of Washington, Special Collections, we aim to shed light on how much can be gleaned from the study of children's literature of the past. With this project, we have created an online exhibit with teaching tools and research guides to garner more public engagement with this collection. Our goal is to provide access to these items in order to inspire studies, share with others, and encourage future use of UW Special Collections materials.

WWW.VICLIT.OMEKA.NET

