

Lamunity

See how many people are out there to help you talk, listen and have fun in any language.

Challenges

Many times when a person is trying to learn a language it can be difficult to find ways to practice speaking that language. Reading a book or listening to audio of another language can help you learn proper grammar, and get a general idea of the language, but to really learn a language it takes a lot of time actually speaking the language. This practice gives the person confidence is conversing in the language, and is necessary if you want to use it to communicate.

The challenge is, finding someone to talk with in a language you are unfamiliar with can prove to be a difficult task.

Solution

Create a website where users can find language partners based on criteria such as geo-location and language proficiency, and users are encouraged to meet up in person to practice languages together.

Key Functions

Sign-up and create a profile

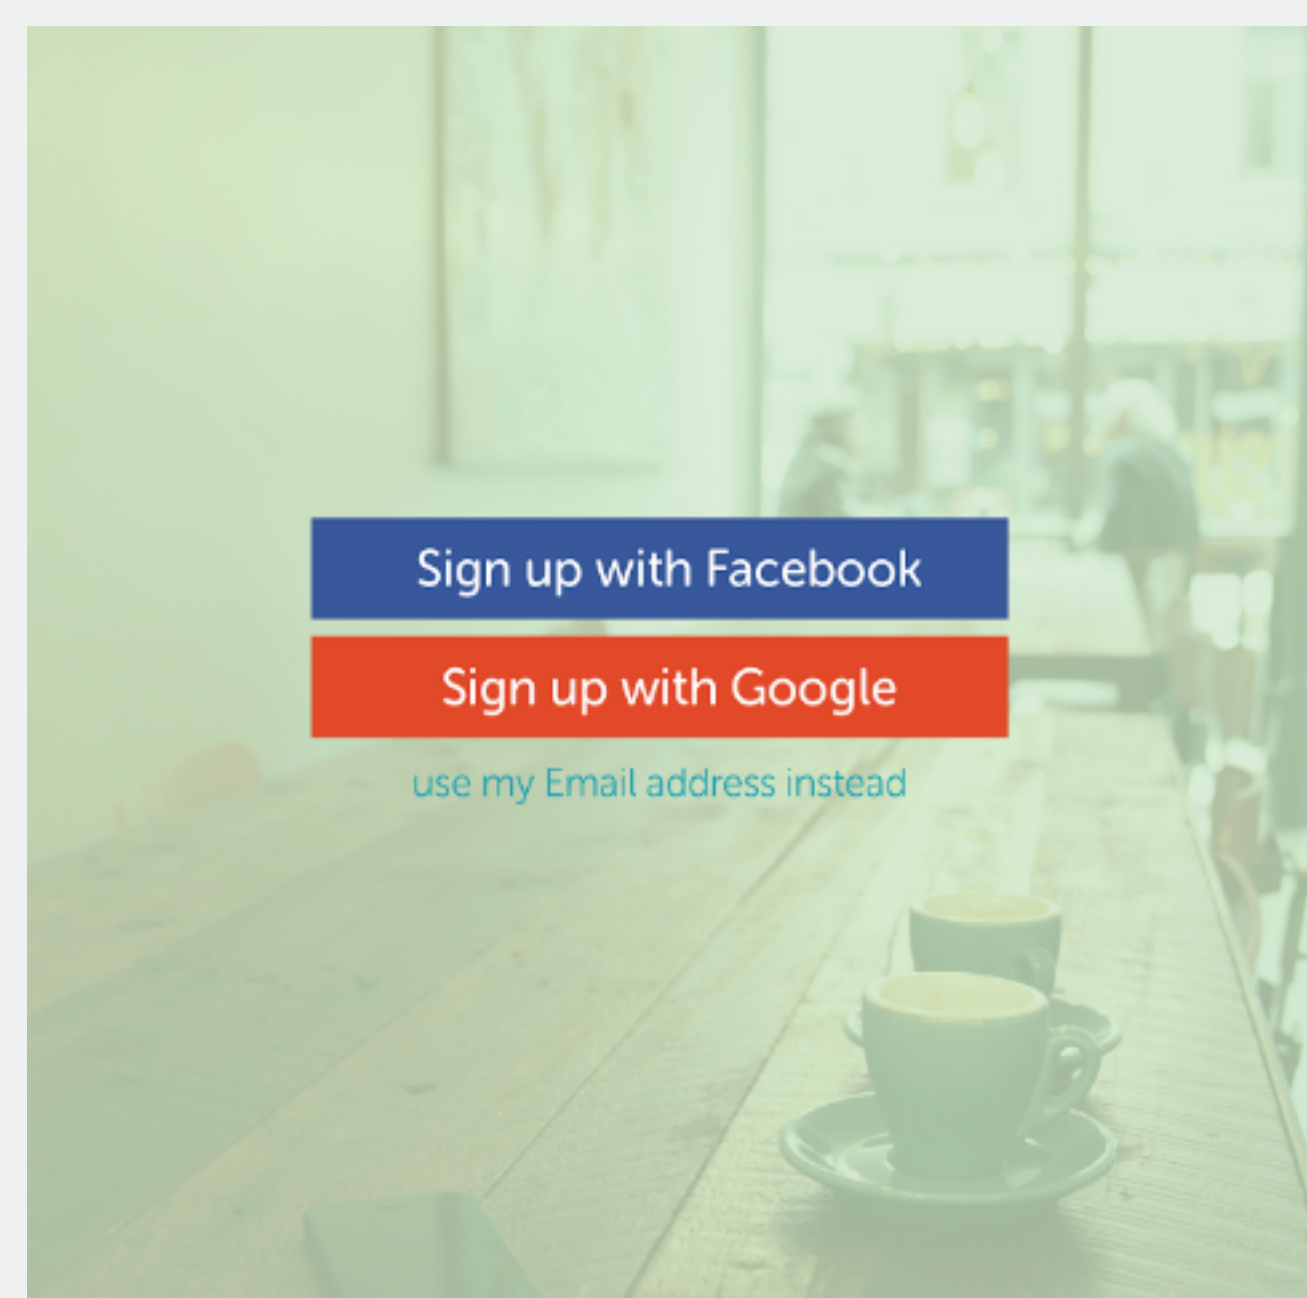

Search for ideal language partners based on filtering criteria such as location and proficiency

Receive and send match-up requests

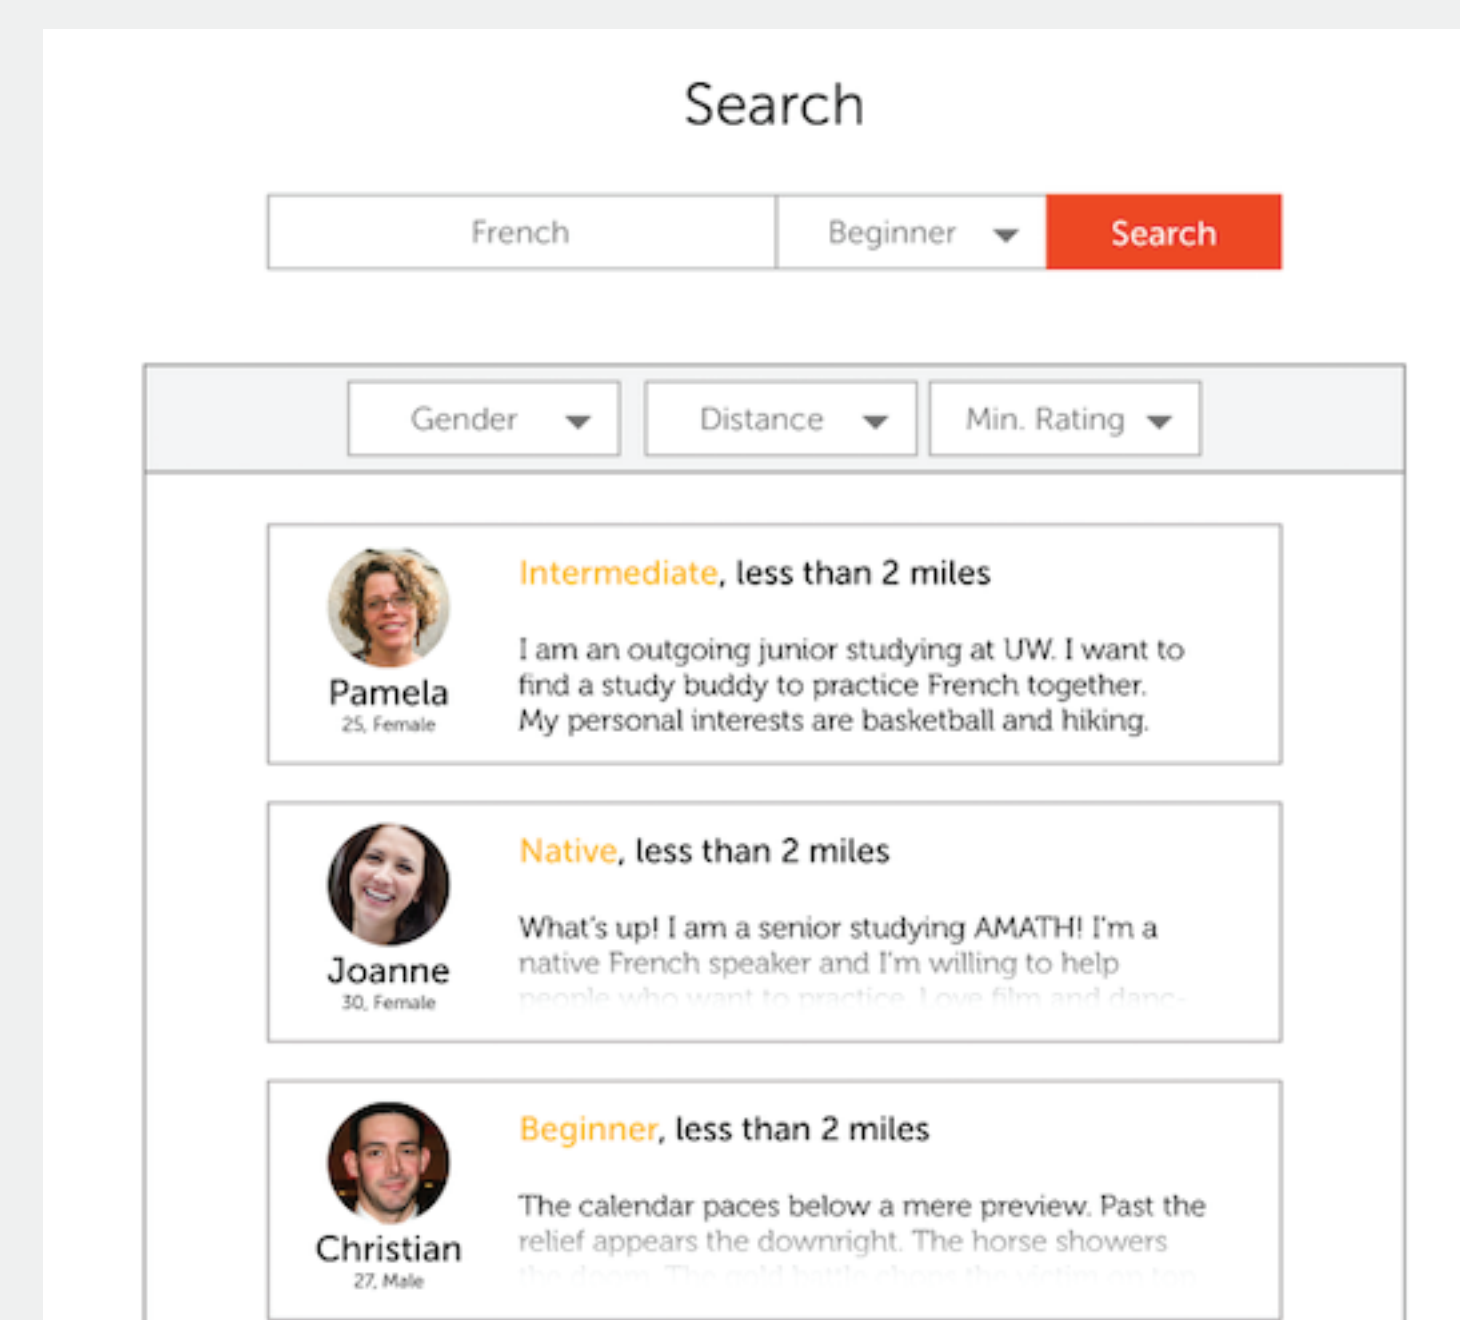

Review and comment

Process

Sign-up

Look-up

Match-up

Meet-up

