

In today's fast paced world, it can be difficult to record or understand the nutrients you receive from the foods you eat each and every day.

Weight loss programs and other dieting approaches create a tedious and boring process to help people achieve their eating goals.

HealthNuts makes it easy to track the foods you eat and offers a fun, interactive and data-driven way.

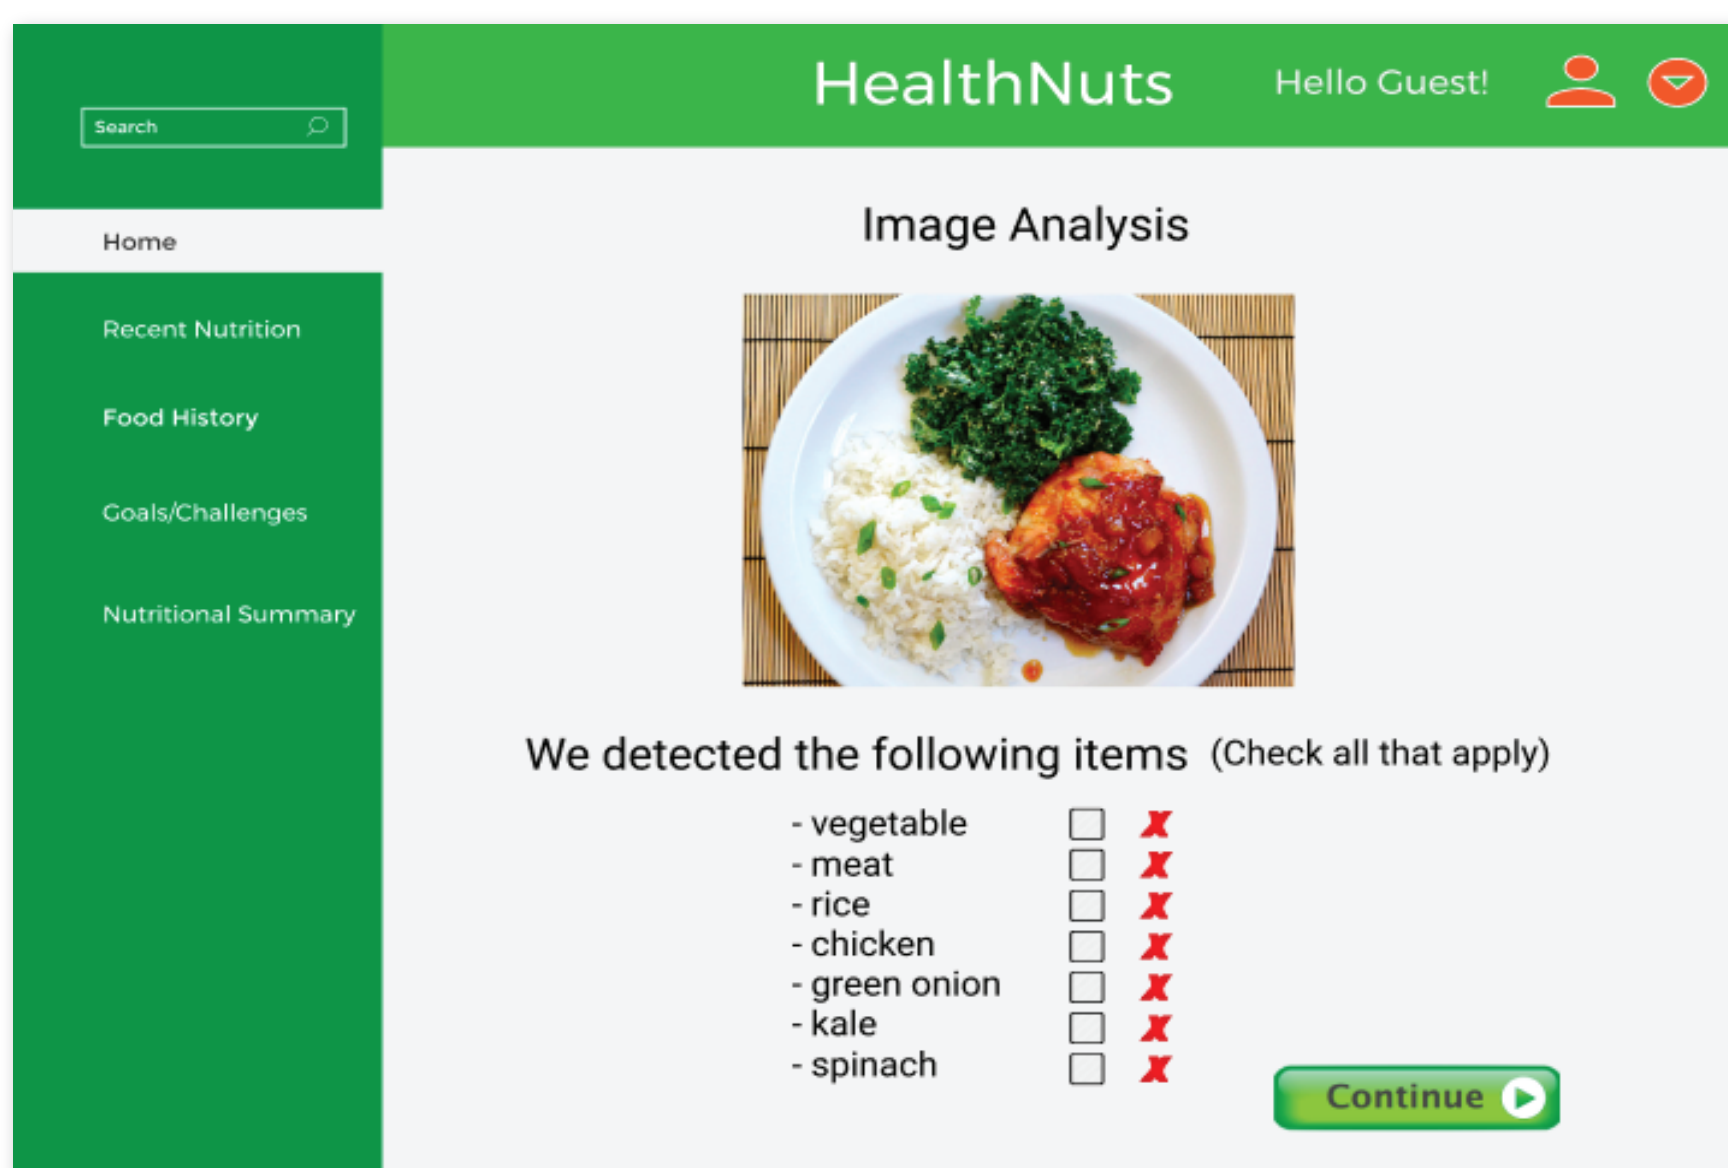

Take a picture of your meal

Extracts the food information for you

Adds information to your nutritional profile

Web application with Advanced Image Recognition technology by Clarifai API

What separates HealthNuts apart?

The foods in each photo are identified with machine vision technology.

Nutrition tracker gives additional insight into what you eat in each meal.

Provides unique eating goals/challenges and shows progress with trends, streaks and nutritional intake summaries.