PROBLEM

It's hard for amateur content creators and voice actors like Alex and Temmie to find ways to collaborate and develop their talents on their own.

Freelance sites that currently exist cater to professionals who already have a lot of experience under their belts. These sites also lack ways for users like Alex and Temmie to form tightly knit communities.

CASTING

Content creators can post roles, and voice actors can audition for them!

Both can learn to collaborate

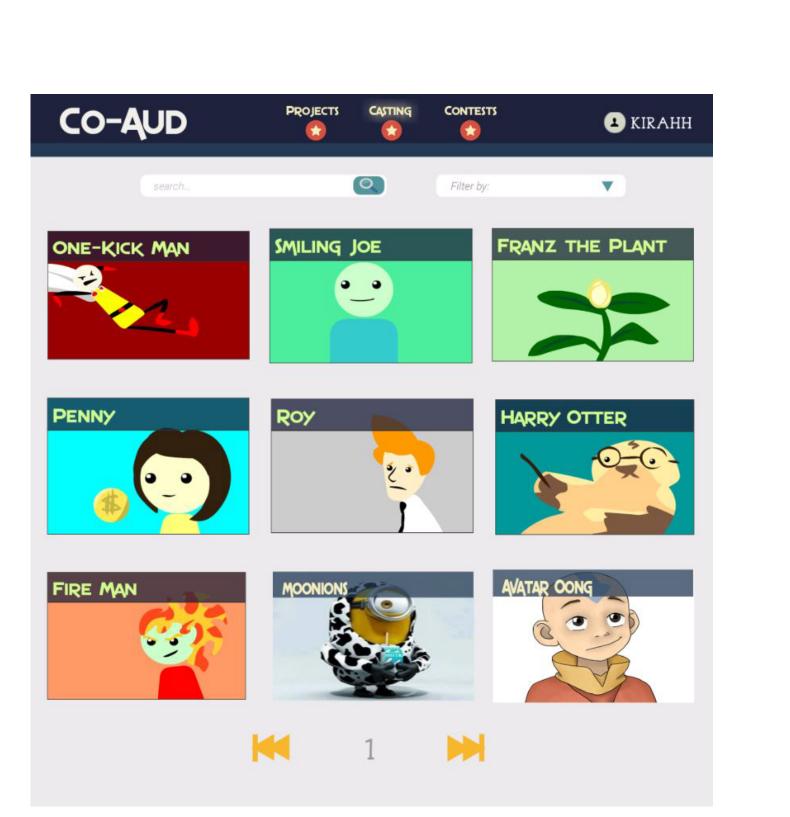

CONTESTS

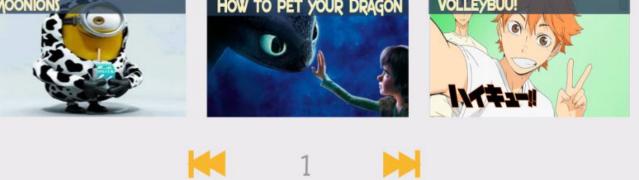

But, if they join Co-Aud...

They can enter monthly contests to exercise their skills.

They can also meet other members of the community along the way!

PROJECTS

They can upload their past works for everyone to see.

Other members can give feedback, and even contact the cast members individually.
