

Problem

In order to improve at the game of Go, a lot of practice, studying, and review must be done. Unfortunately, the resources to study and play Go are spread out forcing Go players to use multiple sites to facilitate their study.

Solution

Dango provides an all-in-one study experience to allow players to focus on their study and to not worry about juggling multiple applications.

Key Features

- Practice boards with video chat to interact with the opponent
- Goal management to maintain a structured study routine
- Game review for feedback from others on previous games
