

Challenge

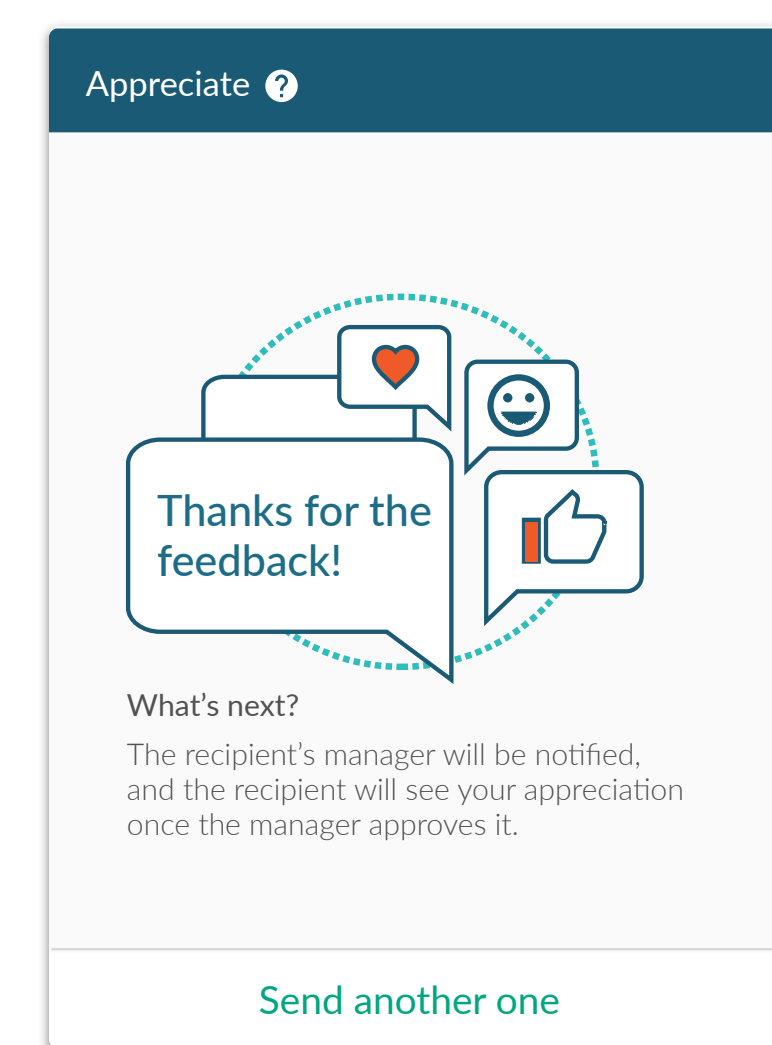

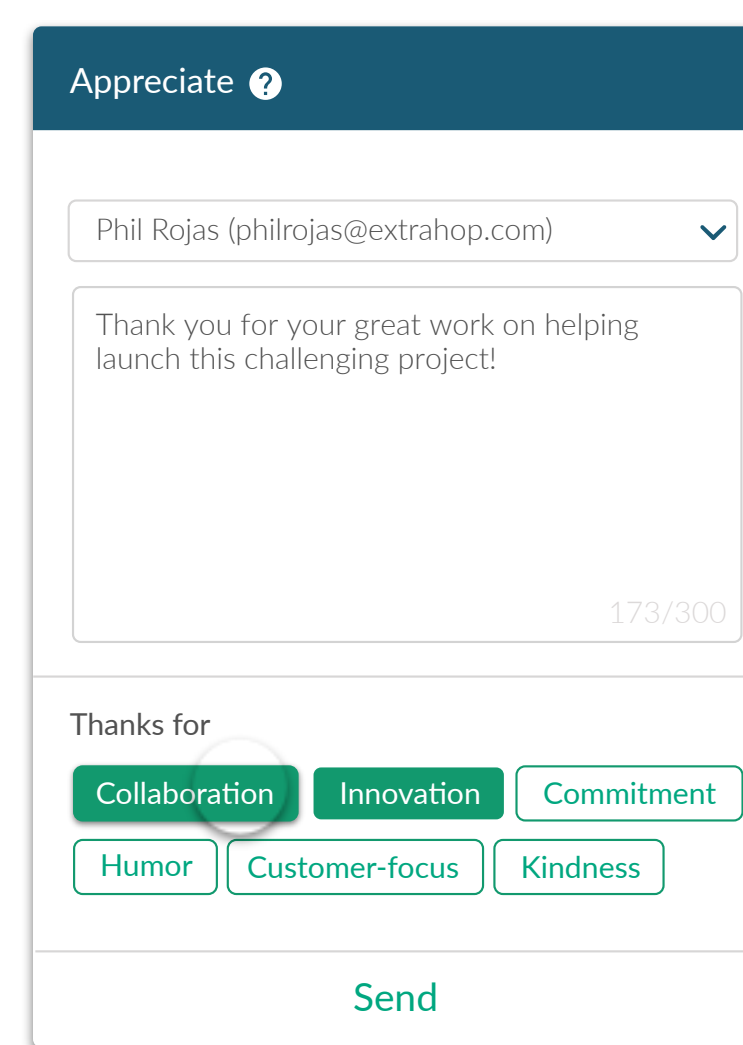

Too much work to appreciate your co-workers? No easy way to identify the behind-scene roles? Lose track of your team's performance? Wondering where is the data to help make solid decisions regarding promotion and rewards? Our project is for you!

Solution

Hoppy is a Chrome extension on which you can endorse your colleague in a fun and easy way. With Hoppy, you also have access to real-time reports and ad-hoc dashboards of your choice.

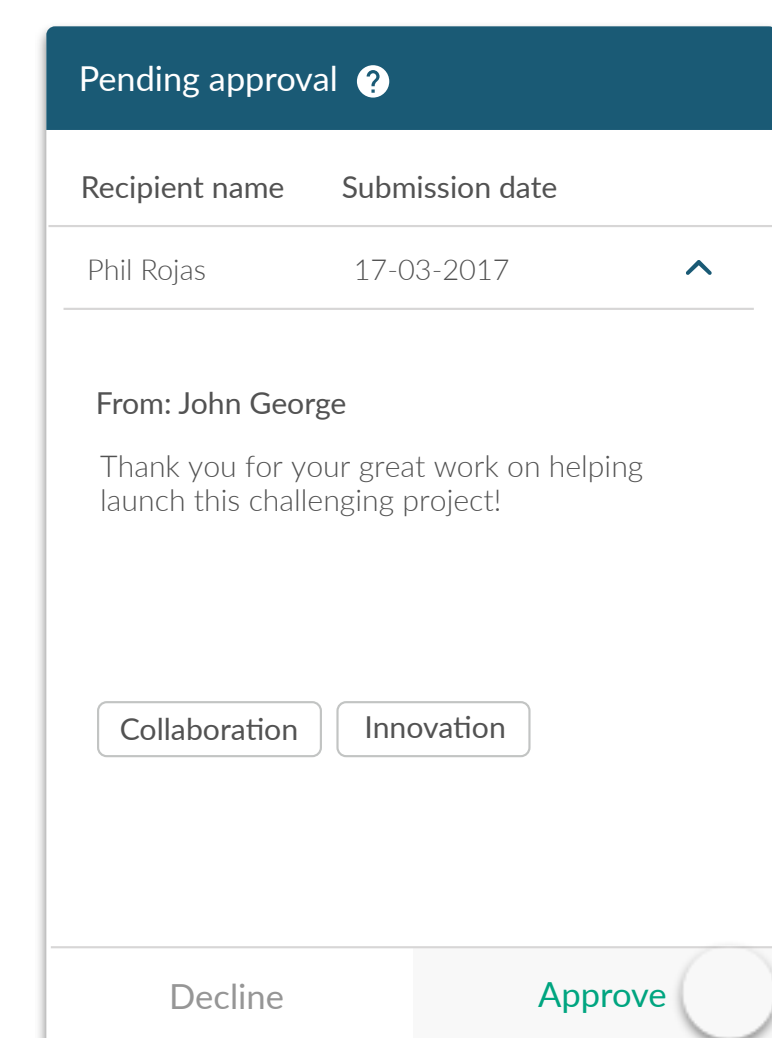

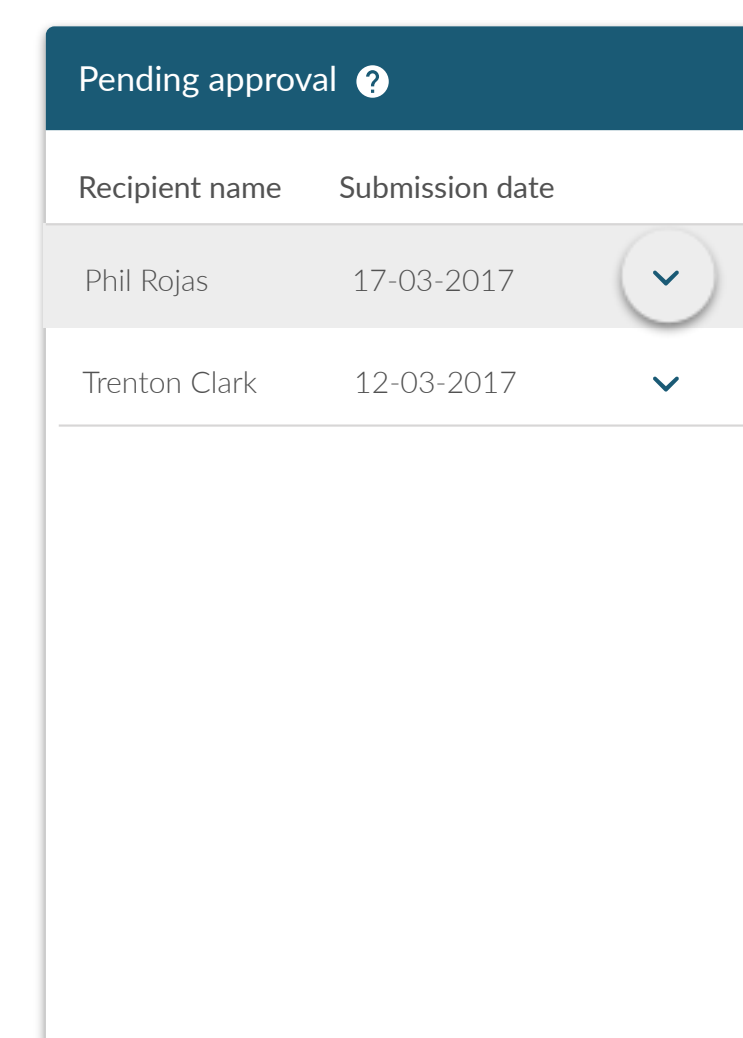

Employees Appreciate

As an employee, you can recognize your colleagues' great work in a fun and efficient way: open extension, choose a name, write a comment, and highlight the features resonating with you.

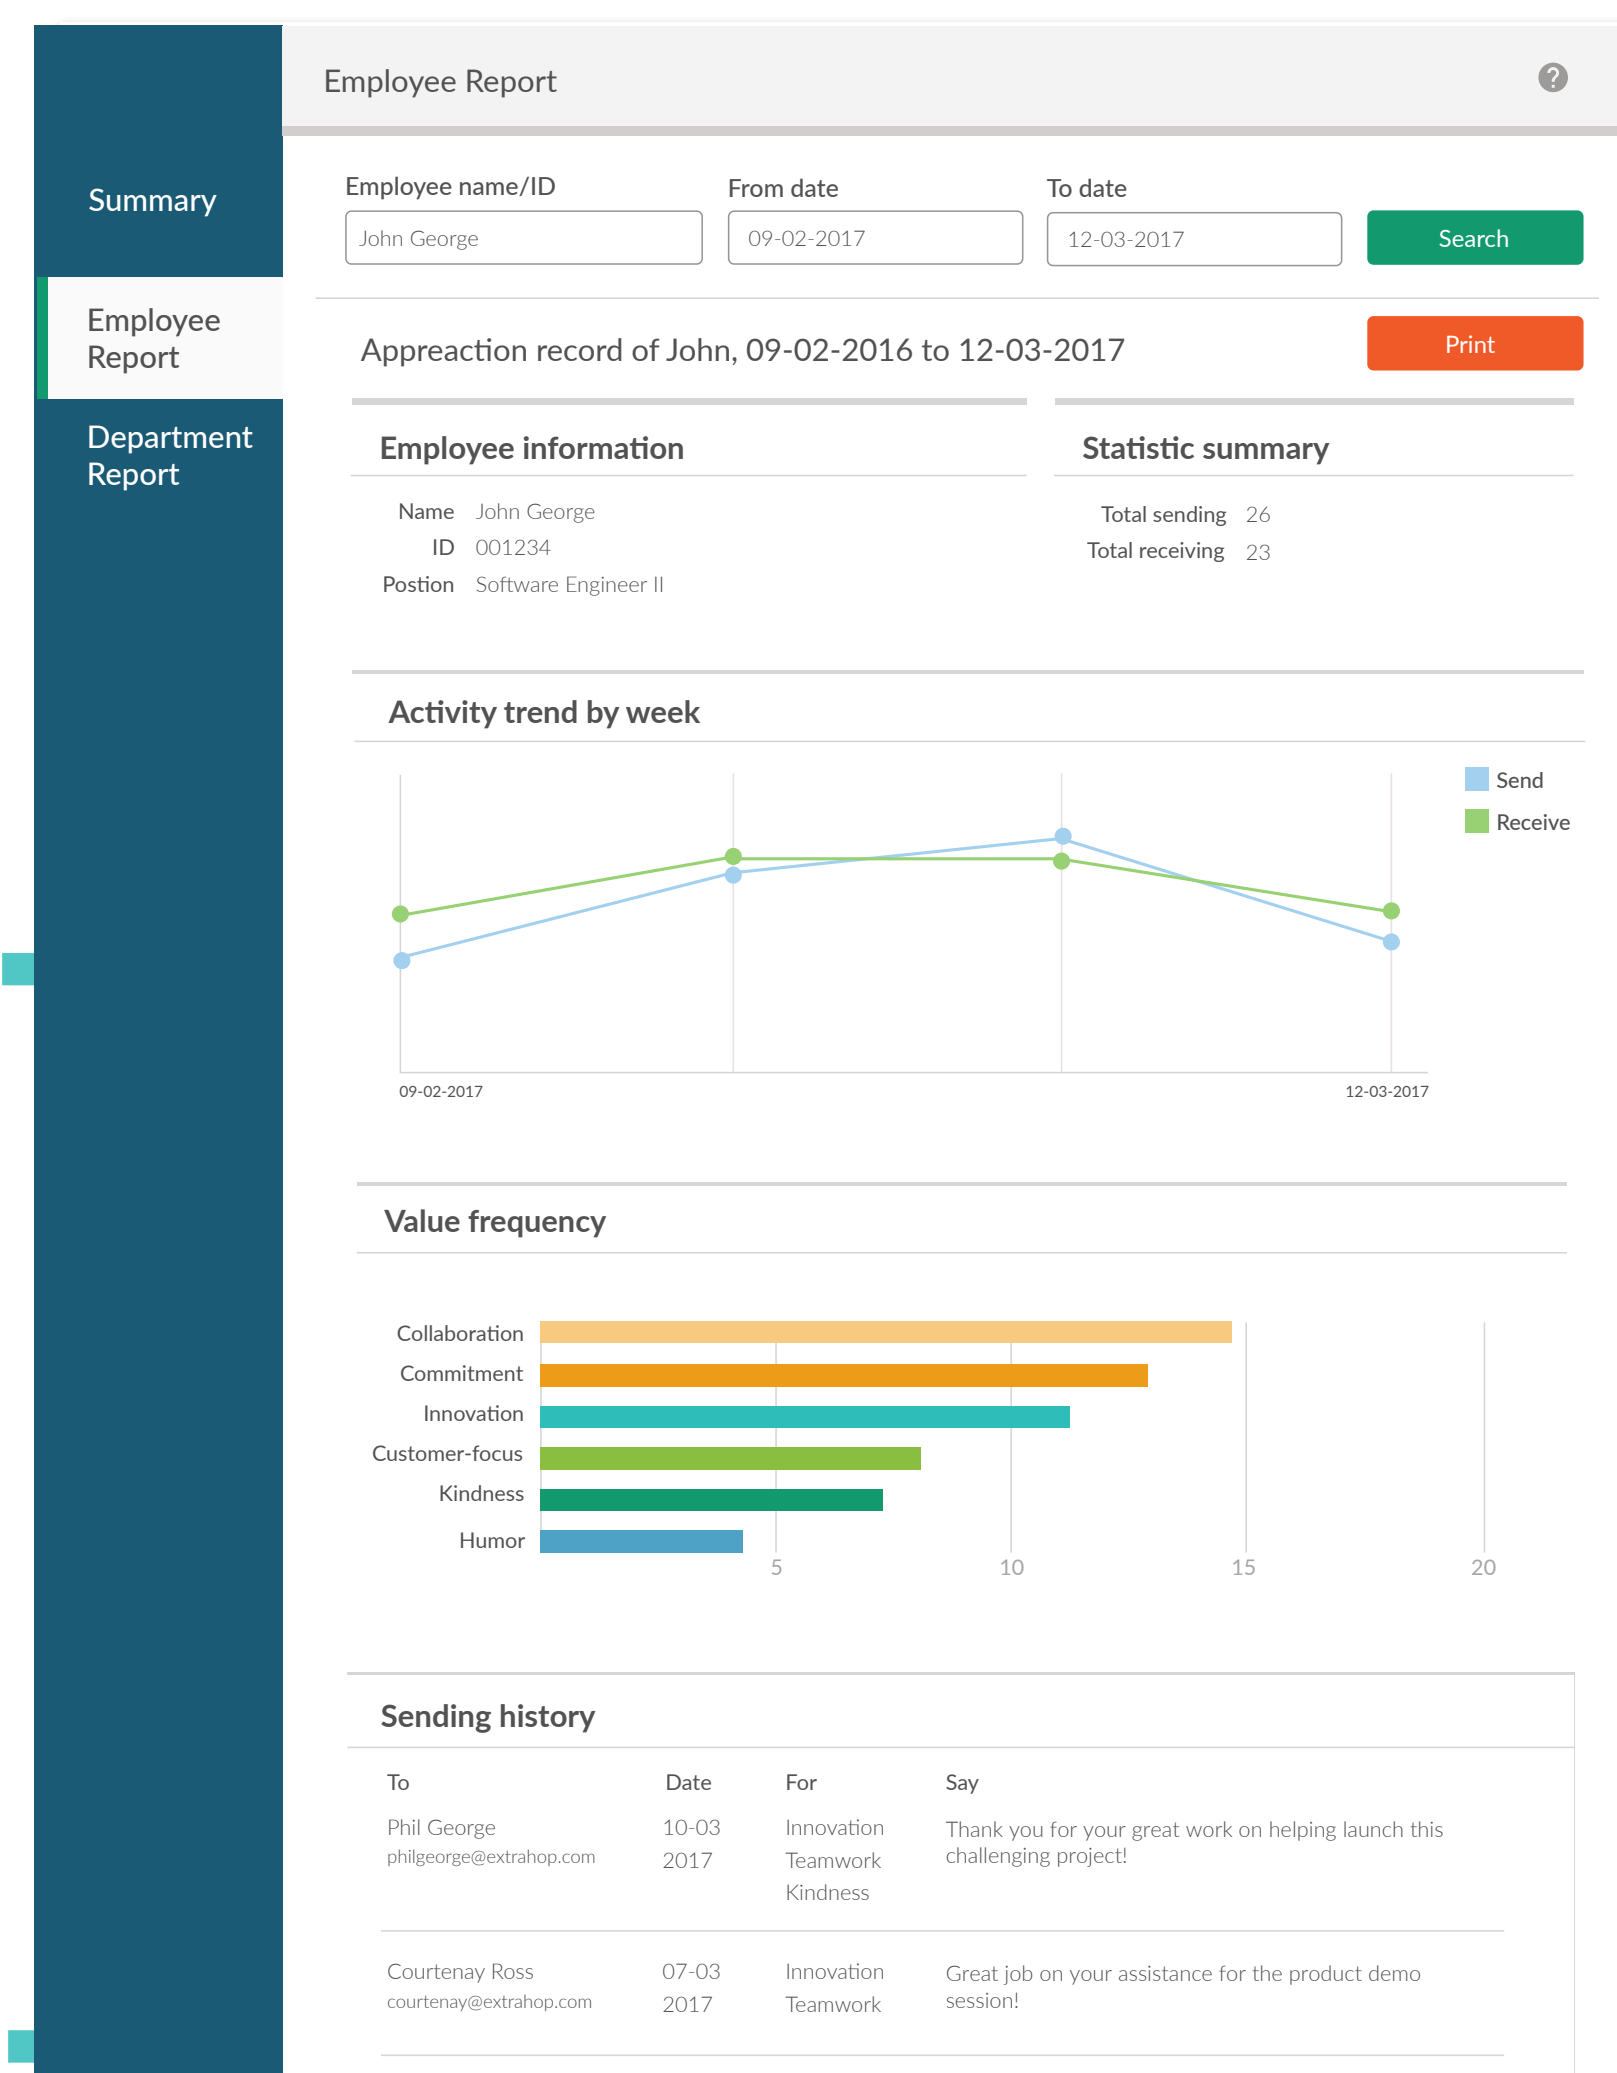

Managers Approve

Wondering who is the super star in your team? Once your staff is appreciated, you will be notified to review the details and give approval.

Admins/HR Report

To make data count, the dashboard not only shows the company-wide appreciation activity, but provides detailed reports of individual employees and departments.

Impact

Reinforce employees' positive image of themselves and motivate them to change work ethics and behaviors to benefit the company.

HR and managers can make data-informed decisions with regard to employees' rewards and promotions
